CO SCI 933 - DATABASE DESIGN AND PROGRAMMING

CSLO 1 At end of the course, the successful student will be able to create a database using MS Access.

Exams and creation of a blank database structure using What is your interpretation of the results for this section? If there was a high rate of students exceeding or demonstrating achievement of the SLO, what major factors may have contributed to this? If your students did not demonstrate achievement of the SLO, what major factors may have contributed to this? Discuss any circumstances regarding student retention or success that may have affected student performance on the SLO assessment. Describe any learning strengths or gaps you observed in your students readiness or performance on the SLO.
