2. Make course material relevant and student-friendly during the first three weeks of semester. It should cover the file management, Windows basics, Technology career, Internet security...etc.

The first-three-week material will be developed by CS901 faculty during the Winter session and posted on CS_ETUDES course shell. This will allow CS901 instructors to copy to their course shell.

3. Request free-three-week software access with the publisher while students wait for the financial aid.
4. Enhance tutoring service.
5. Increase faculty engagement.
