Contact WLAC online for assistance if you can not log on.

You are here to learn English. Self management is key.

Come to class on time and stay for the whole class. Do not leave the room unless it is absolutely necessary.

How can I help you?

Professor Sander's TEACHING PHILOSOPHY

We focus our attention on the American academic environment and the culture. We use the academic environment to observe how we can study successfully within it. It is important for students to feel comfortable and to build trust with me and with each other.

We work on this trust and confidence building through graded discussions, writings and reactions to readings. Regular presence and practice are critical for your success.

Collaboration, cooperation and engagement are important.

I provide the tools for students to feel engaged in the community in which we study, work and live. We study the structure of English, we deconstruct and construct vocabulary and we figure out how to continue these practices beyond my course. I welcome questions and a curiosity about language, people, and why we do what we do.

Writing is a key mode of communication in this course. You will be evaluated on all of your writing. This includes private messages, emails, discussion posts and formal writings.

How can you manage your tasks and assignments for ESL 5A?

Use Private Messaging in ETUDES to write email to me.

Office hours: Mondays and Wednesdays 12:30 to 1:30

Tuesdays 11:30 to 1:00 and online. TBA=To Be Announced Weekly

I may not answer private messages on holidays.

Prerequisite: Appropriate placement level demonstrated through ESL assessment.

I will check with registration to make sure that you have taken the prerequisites for this course. Completion of ESL 4A with a 'C' or better.

Institutional Learning Outcomes: ILOs

ESL 6A will help students meet the following ILOs:

A. Cultural Diversity: We will respectfully engage with other cultures in an effort to understand them.

Through class discussions and written assignments, students will analyze each perspective from a multi-cultural perspective.

B. Ethics: We will practice and demonstrate standards of personal and professional integrity, honesty, and fairness and we will apply ethical principles in all submission of work.

Plagiarism: In thinking about plagiarism, we will discuss the meaning of plagiarism. We will discuss different cultural views about plagiarism. We will learn North American views on plagiarism and why all forms of plagiarism must be avoided in college in the U.S.

Student Objectives: Upon Completion of this course, students will have the following skills:

Ability to produce focused formal papers of at least 400 words, with multiple paragraphs.

Ability to produce writing of approximately 400 words during a timed writing

Ability to produce coherent, unified paragraphs with effective topic sentences.

Ability to produce compound and complex sentences with syntactical accuracy.

Ability to Use ESL 5A verb tenses and modals with occasional errors (FOGI)

Ability to use computers, navigate software and work efficiently online.

SLO-ESL 5A Student Learning Outcome

Demonstrate linear and unified paragraph structure showing connectivity of thought. Students will be able to respond to a writing prompt under timed conditions in which they produce multi-paragraph responses of at least 400 words.

What can you expect to do/show/demonstrate in the course?

Practice Reading Apprenticeship-RA routines regularly through the semester

Reading Journal-Reflections

Reading Strategies List-Individual and Course List

Reading pair share with different partners

Evidence logs-

Talking to the Text-show evidence, show reading process

WRITING-Lots of it!

At least 8 to 10 writing assignments and 4 of them timed essays.

Discussions in ESL 5A. (These must be thoughtful, coherent and devoid of plagiarism)

Grading:

Point System:

Points for Writings-See Modules Writings announced each week

Writings must be submitted on time for consideration for points.

Points for Discussion Postings –Points vary per week

*Discussions must be submitted on time for consideration for points.

Complete sentences must be used at all times.

Points for Focus on Grammar work.

This is a smaller percentage of the point calculation, but it is critical for grammatical practice.

Points for Midterm Exam-Writing This is the first-50 point timed writing grade.

Points for Final Exam (week 16)

Points for fluency (syntax, word choice, word forms) emails, discussion posts)

Private messages, emails, discussion posts and any writing will be compared for writing quality. (Only the 'chat' area is informal and I do not read it for structure.)

Submission of work

You must have your work submitted before the due date. (See Etudes modules)

A hybrid course is very structured.

You have 9 days to complete all work.

No late work is accepted.

If you have a medical excuse, or other serious personal issue, you must communicate with Professor Sander BEFORE the due date.

You can call by phone, come to the office during office hours, or private message through ETUDES PRIVATE MESSAGE. This communication does not excuse you from the assignment. This communication does not give you permission to submit late work. You must speak directly to Professor Sander.

See Modules for due dates.

Please let the professor know if you have any kind of disability.

You may require accommodations.

If you have difficulty, but you aren't sure if you have a disability, contact the professor.

If you need financial help, or more assistance, go to the EOP &S office immediately to see if you qualify for that financial aid, tutoring and counseling. Student Services/Counseling Office-Third Floor (Ask for Alma Narez-Acosta) Professor Narez-Acosta is the Personal Development 40 professor for your online class in PD 40.

Dropping a class:

If you drop the class, it is your responsibility to drop in Admissions.

If you don't drop yourself, you risk an 'F' for the course.

Please let Professor Sander know if you need to drop the course. I am always interested to know why students drop.

Attendance:

If you are not active online, you may be dropped or excluded from the class.

PLEASE CONTACT THE PROFESSOR IF YOU ARE NOT ABLE TO WORK ONLINE.

Remember, if you don't participate and show activity online weekly, it can affect your grade. I can see your daily participation through the ETUDES Activity Meter.

Study online each day. Review your notes. Read your homework. Ask for help when you need it.

Get help in the tutoring lab or online at West. (IT IS FREE!) See Professor Tim Russell and Professor Sue deBord Sanders. First floor of the library.

Susan Fong is the contact for the Writing Lab for extra help in writing and grammar. There is an online tutoring lab and writing lab.

This Syllabus and course plan is subject to change.

Please read the ANNOUNCEMENTS daily.

All new information will be posted in Announcements in Etudes.

How do you begin in Etudes:

Read the announcements each time you open your course.

Read your private message from the professor each day. (Sometimes you have more than one private message per day.)

It is your responsibility to learn how to send and receive private messages in Etudes.

Read the modules and ask questions about anything confusing.

Read the Discussion Topics and post before the deadline.

Do the Quizzes, Tests and Assignments when assigned.

Practice in FOGI (online grammar) every day.

In FOG 3, do the Pretest for each unit first. Finish the practice units, and then do the Post Test in FOG.

Communicate with the professor when you have questions, but also work with each other.

Collaborate with classmates and form study groups
