Rules of Operation

• Speak to an issue no more than two times
• Have a vision for our “desired” outcome
• Be present and committed to the task at hand
• Listen to new ideas
• Establish a “parking lot” for any unanswered questions
• Complete assigned homework after each meeting in preparation for the next meeting
• If we need to spend more time discussing an issue/item, we will meet more frequently.
• Contribute your valuable input by reading documents, reports, etc. outside of meetings, taking and prioritizing notes, and using meeting time for in-depth discussions.
